In March 2000, California voters approved Proposition 13 (2000 Water Bond), which authorizes the State of California to sell $1.97 billion in general obligation bonds to support safe drinking, water quality, flood protection and water reliability projects throughout the state.

The State Water Resources Control Board (SWRCB) will help allocate $763.9 million of these funds to local projects throughout California. The SWRCB created this web page to provide a quick digest of available bond programs for interested parties to find out how to submit proposals for available money.
