Believe me - This will be a disaster. Having lived in Florida for a while, we saw what dams do. Florida finally saw the light and is restoring the rivers to their natural flow. Little by little. Please don't consider more dams.

California also has a great treasure in its fisheries. Having lived in N. Cal a number of years ago, we are deeply concerned about how much fishing loss Calif has sustained since '73!! And we hope that California will start to renew it's obligations towards restoring its streams and rivers and its open spaces.

Colorado is a very good example. Thank you.
